In 2022, Nathan and his family relocated back home to Prince Edward Island. He is presently the Founder and Managing Director of Greenwood Capital Advisors (National).

Though much of his career has been in advisory services, he leans daily on the foundational skills that he learned as a Chartered Professional Accountant and makes a concerted effort to remain current with the evolution and changing standards of the profession.

Nathan says “I believe I can bring a unique perspective to the Board given my adjacent skillset that I have developed throughout my career and offer insights on how to drive value for factions of the membership who may have pursued careers outside of public or industry accounting roles based on my time advising entrepreneurs and leadership teams in a variety of sectors/industries. I also have significant experience in presenting to and working alongside many Boards of Directors throughout the course of my work and can leverage the practices of the highly engaged, high-performing Boards while drawing on experience of helping other Boards mature to become more effective.”
